PROLOGUE

Excerpted from The Journal of Paranormal Phenomena, August 1989

"In the thick Jungles of Cancun I discovered the site of an ancient Mayan temple. Most unusual was the discovery of a mask quite unlike anything that has been found before.

Carved from a bone like material it seems to be a representation of a deity. This mask was attached to the wearers head with interesting straps that were fashioned to look like skeletal hands. Ruins found in the area refer to this relic as the 'terror head' or perhaps a better translation would be the terror mask. This is a breakthrough discovery."

Excerpted from a letter of Dr. Mueller to a friend

Dear Klaus,

"This mask is incredible. You mentioned reading my piece in JOPP. However, I couldn't mention in the article the aura of power surrounding this thing. You pick it up and shiver. A primal wave rushes up your spine. When you visit, we'll have to go over it. The lake is lovely this fall and the fish are biting. See you."

INTRODUCTION

You've come to dread the night. In the clutches of sleep the nightmares begin. Always the same, Jennifer screaming in the dark until suddenly she stops. Silence, then the infernal whisperings of the mask begin again.

"Rick, we can save her....

"You know we can...

"Remember the power...

"Remember how much you liked it?

"The house, Rick....

"Jennifer's waiting ....

"And I'm waiting for you."

Awake in a sweat with your heart racing you can almost remember the last time. Locked into the mask, body surging with feral rage and an insatiable hunger. The cold steel pipe in your hands slick with gore. Under the mask you were smiling. You know you have to go, to save Jennifer....or so you say.

HANDY HOUSEHOLD WEAPONS

From the journal of Dr. Mueller: "I have begun to notice strange things in the woods. I have become uneasy. Today I cataloged all the potential weapons in the house. Not very impressive I'm afraid. At times like this I wish I had shown a keener interest in hunting."

"Pipe - Left over from remodelling, it could make a handy bludgeon.

"Bone - A gift from a paleontologist friend. This fossilized leg bone is a hard hitter.

"Chainsaw - I suppose this can cut more than firewood.

"Shotgun - I managed to find eight shells, I hope that will be enough.

"Potassium bomb - I have a small quantity of potassium placed in glass vials. When broken they will explode and burn."

DOCTOR MUELLER'S GUIDE TO BEASTS

From the Journal of Dr. Mueller: "I had mentioned in earlier entries of seeing 'strange things' in the woods. These 'things' are monsters. I can't believe my luck. This is a tremendous chance to capture and study these creatures. I have made notes based on my observations. I don't understand how the mask fits into all of this, but I'm sure there is a connection.

"Zombie: These shambling creatures literally drool rotting flesh. Indeed, they are as pleasant to smell as they are to see.

"Screaming Mimi: Fascinating creature. There seems to be several types leaping about the woods. They all emit a piercing scream. Jack and I have set several traps to attempt to capture one for closer study.

"Ghoul: I saw one of these creatures in the old sewer. It appeared to be related to the zombie creature, but without the red ooze. Yet it retained the pleasant feature of drooling ropes of rotting flesh."
